President’s Message

It’s amazing but the golf season is here and in full swing! The DDWGA has a variety of great events lined up for the summer and we hope to see all of you out on the course very soon!

The Spring Shamble, Jinx Fensel Memorial, Janet Beardsley and Get a Girl Golfing events have already come and gone and were all very successful. You will find more details about some of these events elsewhere in this newsletter.

There are several new faces around the DDWGA and MVGA this summer. This is my first year serving as President of the DDWGA Board, and Carol Smith has also accepted the position of Secretary. As always, Steve Jurick has two interns for the summer. I’d like to extend a warm welcome and a huge thank you to this year’s P.J. Boatwright Interns Matt Snyder and Jordan Benner.

I look forward to a great year serving as the President of the DDWGA! Hope to see you all out on the course!

Sincerely,

Sarah Hoschouer
President

Congratulations to the 2009 Scholarship Winners

This year, the Donna Maciukevicius Camp Scholarship for a 15-17 year old was awarded to Diana Bonner from Chaminade-Julienne High School. The Junior Golf Camp Scholarship for 12-14 year olds was awarded to Lindsay Murray from Tippecanoe.

The 2009 DDWGA College Scholarship went to Allie Pulos, a recent graduate of Northmont High School. Allie will be attending Otterbein College in the fall. She received a $1000 award.

Congratulations to all three of our award winners!
Get a Girl Golfing a Success

On Friday, June 12, a free clinic took place at Rollandia Golf Center. Hosted by the Dayton District Women’s Golf Association, area junior female golfers learned the basics of the game from some top-notch instructors. Despite the cold morning, the turnout was phenomenal. In the morning session, young girls ages 8-12 were treated to free lessons from established amateur players, college coaches, and current college players. Running the show along with some trusted helpers, Diana Schwab made sure every participant had a good time. After breaking the girls up into smaller groups based on abilities ranging from beginners to advanced, the girls participated in stations where different golf skills were taught. Diana taught the girls the rules of the game, such as how to mark your ball and how to drop from a hazard. Next, current head women’s coach at The Ohio State University Therese Hession took the girls to the long range to work on their full swings. Assistant OSU women’s golf coach Amy Langhals taught the girls the basics of putting using some interesting drills. Current Ohio Wesleyan golfer Jordan Benner kept things going with some fun pitching drills. The final lesson in the rotation was putt-putt on Rollandia’s course and was taught by MVGA Intern and P.J. Boatwright national putting champion Matt Snyder. The morning wrapped up with the girls enjoying free pizza in Magic Castle.

The afternoon session was made up of girls ages 13-18 who were able to enjoy the suddenly beaming sunshine. With some better players in the camp, it seemed appropriate that they be taken out on the course for some first-hand learning. Also joining the afternoon session was Sally Kosters, the current women’s golf coach at UD, who taught the girls fundamentals of the full swing. Although some girls came to camp without clubs, they certainly did not leave empty-handed. The DDWGA made sure that every girl left with something, allowing them to choose from clubs, bags, clothes, shoes, hats, and tees. Overall, the day proved to be a big success as all of the girls had fun and learned something.
